Council chief says coalition will 'put people first'

LEADER'S PLEDGE ON KEY SERVICES

Report by Rob Cox

NEW Walsall Council leader Sean Coughlan has pledged that his term in office will be "about putting people first and making sure frontline services survive".

Councillor Coughlan has spoken to set out his vision for the borough.

He spoke fondly of his relationship with his late 'Thatcherite' father as he outlined the main emphasis for the council's new coalition regime with the Liberal Democrats.

But it was straight down to business for Labour's Councillor Coughlan who, after being formally elected last week, decided on his cabinet including a new portfolio of 'agenda for change' for his coalition partner and Liberal Democrat leader Councillor Ian Shires.

Other cabinet members include Councillor Lee Jeavons who will serve as Councillor Coughlan's deputy leader and as the portfolio holder for regeneration. The portfolio for children's services and education will be held by Councillor Rose Burley while community, leisure and culture will be looked after by Councillor Julie Fitzpatrick.

Councillor Coughlan said: "We will sit down with the chief executive and his team about the direction that we want to get back to which we started over 12 months ago when we took control. "The reality is that we know what challenges we have got, we have been there before and we know we have got difficult decisions to make but we think we can do things differently and better." One of the things that Councillor Bird [Mike, former leader] talked about was people were lazy for not going out to vote, I honestly believe the opposite. People are disenchanted, they want something different."

Interestingly, as Councillor Coughlan heads up Walsall's Labour party, his father was a die-hard Conservative voter. He said: "My dad was always into politics but not the same politics as myself. I think he would be really really proud. He brought us up as free thinking individuals, we had lots of clashes about politics but I am sure he is sat up there really proud as is my mother."

RAILWAY BENCHMARK TO SCOUTING LEGEND BRIAN

The bench at Chasewater Railway unveiled in the memory of Brian Marsh, with, front, his granddaughter Leanne Dunn

A FITTING salute was paid to a scouting legend from Pelsall who was honoured with his own memorial bench. Brian Marsh was involved in scouting for 30 years in the 1st Pelsall Group, and dedicated thousands of hours to helping youngsters develop.

The former railway worker passed away on July 5 last year, his 73rd birthday, and to recognise his incredible contribution, a bench bestowed with his name was unveiled at Brownhills West Station, a station which he knew well. His proud granddaughter Leanne Marsh said: "We had a really good turnout.

He worked on the railway so I think he would have liked it there. It was something he was really passionate about. He didn't intend to start helping with the Scouts. It was just that someone left and he was asked to help out. He found that he was quite good and stuck at it for a long time.

"There were loads of people there at the station to see the bench, lots of people from the Scouting community including committee members for the 1st Pelsall Scout Group.

"We all had a bit of a catch-up and a look at some old photos. Everyone really seemed to enjoy looking back and reminiscing on old times. We looked through old pictures of St Georges Day parades and other events that he would play an important role in organising. He always had a lot of support from the parents as well. They really appreciated the work he did and that helped it become a really good community thing.

"He was well-known and had lots of friends in the Scouting community, not just in Pelsall. He was a wonderful man. He took me home from the hospital at three days old and looked after me ever since."

Concrete policy call to tackle travellers

A CONCRETE policy is needed to deal with travellers after caravans moved on to another field in Walsall, a councillor has claimed.

Around 14 pitched up on land off King George Crescent, beside Elmwood School, in Rushall. Last week two different sets of travellers set up camp on Delves Common in Bell Lane within days of each other. Palfrey councillor Mohammed Nazir said a borough-wide policy had to be drawn up, with more dedicated traveller sites identified.

"This cannot keep happening," he said. "It is not fair on the residents. We need to come up with a concrete policy. Walsall has become a location of choice for travellers in the past 18 months." The council had to move along travellers and clean up after them on 85 occasions in 2015 – up from just 14 the previous year. The clean-up bill was £70,000.

HEALTH

A&E figures making a positive recovery

PERFORMANCE has significantly improved at Walsall Manor Hospital's troubled A&E. In April – the latest figures available – 91 per cent of patients were seen within the nationally required four-hour benchmark.

This is still below the NHS target of 95 per cent, but the performance had improved substantially as it had gone below 85 per cent. Russell Caldicott, director of finance and performance, said: "During April, the highest number of breaches that occurred for four hour waits were due to unavailable beds."

Club revamp scheme sails through planning

PLANS to revamp a sailing club have been given the green light by council planners.

The extension to Aldridge Sailing Club will see an entrance lobby built at the venue in Barnes Lane, Rushall.

Disabled facilities will be included as part of the new additions to the sailing club. The planning application success gives club chiefs a second major boost in the past six months. Back in December there was cause for celebration after the club secured a £10,000 grant to buy two new boats.

App whizz hopes for a 'close' finish

AN entrepreneur from the Black Country is hoping to launch a new app with Sir Richard Branson which aims to help long distance couples.

Malia Choudhury, of Walsall, is building an app to help couples feel physically close by hearing each other's heart beating and watching videos together in sync. The 23-year-old has entered her idea, entitled Closer Than, into the Virgin Media Business VOOM 2016 competition.

If successful Malia will have the chance to pitch her idea to the Virgin owner. The heart beating feature works by the camera lens on a smart phone tracking colour changes from the tip of a finger as blood is pumped.

Speaking about the app, Malia said: "Why is it that long distance couples struggle to connect in an age of instant messaging and free video calls? Very rarely do they have any real time together that isn't a scheduled Skype call or scattered instant messages."

"Closer Than is a mobile app that allows long distant couples to experience life-like interaction through their smart phone by hearing their heart beating and watching videos in sync, all in real time - just as if you were there together."

"How do we make live interaction possible when you are time zones apart? Shared clocks sync with your typical sleeping hours and busy calendars so that you always realise mutual free time in a clock that refreshes every 12 hours.

"The app hasn't been developed yet, but 384 couples separated by distance have joined our mailing list."

More information on Closer Than is available at closerthanapp.com

56pc increase in arrests of Eastern Europeans

EASTERN European arrests in the Black Country have rocketed by 56 per cent - while the number of people with UK nationality detained by police has dropped, it has emerged.

A total of 1,394 people from Russia, Estonia, Slovakia, Romania, Poland, Czech Republic, Latvia were arrested by police in 2015. This compared to 893 in 2011.

The number of Latvian people arrested jumped from 75 to 167, Hungarians arrested from 17 to 35 and Poles from 278 to 447. Romanian arrests went up 223 to 363 over the period, Slovakia arrests from 43 to 85, Estonian arrests from two to six and Slovenian dropped from one to zero.

Meanwhile, the number of British people arrested in the region fell from 18,258 to 17,592, a drop of four per cent. The Black Country area consists of Dudley, Wolverhampton, Walsall and Sandwell local policing units. In January a Polish thief who targeted elderly people in Wolverhampton was jailed for two years and eight months.

Stolen

Gabriel Lipinski, aged 21, of Willenhall Road, had a previous conviction for a street robbery in Poland during which he stole a mobile phone. Also in January, another Lithuanian immigrant, Gediminas Babusis, was jailed for six months after being caught with a stolen van less than three months after arriving to the UK.

Babusis, 44, of no fixed address, pleaded guilty to the theft of the vehicle from Sowers Close, Willenhall.

Last month, Polish immigrant Adrian Anderski was jailed for three years, two months, for trying to rob a woman and break into vehicles outside Wolverhampton railway station. Anderski, 20, of Wellington Road, Tipton, admitted attempted robbery and theft and was ordered to be detained in a Young Offenders Institution. He faces detention on release.

The figures come after West Midlands Police detained 83 people, including two Poles wanted by detectives in their own country on suspicion of separate frauds and a Czech man implicated in a burglary back in his homeland, as part of a multi-national operation.

Blaze rips through derelict former pub

Firefighters during the call out to tackle a blaze at the former Boat pub in Darlaston

Picture by @WillenhallFire

MORE than a dozen firefighters were called to deal with a blaze at a former pub in Darlaston, which has 'fallen into rack and ruin'.

The fire originated from a caravan and spread into the old building, which was once The Boat, on Bentley Road South.

Crews from Walsall, Fallings Park, Willenhall and Oldbury fire stations attended the scene of the blaze at around 3pm on Monday.

West Midlands Fire Service was unable to confirm whether it was started deliberately. No-one was reported as injured.

Bentley Road South was shut off while firefighters tackled the flames. A force control spokeswoman said: "We were called around 3pm to an incident, which started in a caravan but spread to a pub. It used to be The Boat."

Willenhall Fire posted pictures to its Twitter feed showing smoke coming through burned out windows shortly after the flames were extinguished by crews.

The inside of the pub, which has been hit by fires previously, was also shown to be charred with blackened roof beams. The back of the building was also affected.

The pub shut down in 2006 and was hit by arsonists a year later. Then in 2009 a car wash was set up illegally on the former car park, but it was eventually closed by Walsall Council in a crackdown, although there was a bid to demolish the pub and start up the business legitimately.

Councillor Doug James, who represents Darlaston, said: "The pub has been eyesore for months now. It is such a shame because The Boat used to be hugely popular in the area and because of the decline in the pub trade generally it became vacant. Since then it has fallen into rack and ruin."

Number of marriages within region falls by 10pc

THE number of people getting married in the Black Country and Staffordshire fell by around 10 per cent in 12 months, latest figures reveal.

A total of 7,296 couples tied the knot in religious or civil ceremonies, data from the Office for National Statistics (ONS). The number of marriages in 2013 - the latest statistics to be published - fell from 8,140 in 2012, a reduction of 10.3 per cent.

But the region mirrored the national picture which also saw a drop and it's believed people could have been avoiding the number '13' fearing it an unlucky year to get married. Financial reasons with Britain still recovering after the recession may also have had an impact.

Dudley saw the biggest drop of 22 per cent - with 893 couples getting married in 2013 compared with 1,155 the previous year.

But Councillor John Martin, cabinet member for law and governance, said that numbers tying the knot at register offices and other approved venues in the borough had increased since then.

In Sandwell there was a 12 per cent reduction in the number of ceremonies with 672 in 2013, down from 770 in 2012. In Wolverhampton, there was a seven per cent drop with 789 couples getting married in 2012 compared with 733 in 2012 and in Walsall the number fell by around six per cent with 720 ceremonies in 2013 and 675 in 2012.

Join in the fun at party in park

FUN-FILLED activities are set to draw people in to this year's Party in Bloxwich Park on Saturday.

Live music, children's rides, summer stalls, puppet shows and donkey rides are just some of the activities on offer.

Organised by the Bloxwich Business Partnership CIC, together with officers from Walsall Council, it kicks off at 10am with many of the activities taking place along the High Street.

Sharon White, events director of the partnership, said: "There's free balloon modelling and face painting - always a treat for little ones - and a Town Centre Summer Trail for everyone to get involved in the fun."

To find out more visit the Bloxwich Town Centre Facebook page or call Nikki Rolls on 01922 654324.

Skills programme set up for young

A NEW engineering skills programme for young people is being set up in the Black Country. Wolverhampton and Walsall have been chosen as locations for a special skills camp aimed at Year 11 and 12 students offered by the Engineering Development Trust (EDT).

The course dates and venues are: July 4 - 8 at Performance Through People, Walsall, and July 11 - 15 at the University of Wolverhampton.

Families hit out at lack of warnings for tourists

FAMILIES of the Tunisia terror attack victims have raised concerns about a lack of warnings for travellers, at the latest pre-inquest hearing.

Relatives of some of the 30 Britons murdered in the resort of Sousse in June last year fear not enough was done to alert holidaymakers of the terror risk in the country. The attack in Sousse came just three months after 24 people – including Shropshire solicitor Sally Jane Adey – were killed at the Bardo Museum in Tunis in March.

Andrew Ritchie QC, who represents 17 families including Wednesbury's Suzy Richards – who lost her son Joel, brother Adrian and father Patrick in the Sousse massacre – said the Foreign Office had potentially failed to require holiday companies to warn Britons of the dangers. Travel agents allegedly lowered their prices to try to 'entic' more Britons to Tunisia, after 24 people were killed in a terror attack at Bardo National Museum in the capital in March 2015.

Ms Richards has previously said that she remains concerned about travel operators continuing to offer cut price deals to the country. Foreign Office advice for travellers in June 2015 stated: "There is a high risk from terrorism, including kidnapping. Attacks could be indiscriminate, including in places visited by foreigners."

"This had only been produced online but we are going to consider, in light of future evidence, whether Her Majesty's Government should have imposed a duty of caution on the travel companies," Mr Ritchie said at the pre-inquest hearing into the deaths last Wednesday.

He said travel agents, including Thomson's parent company TUI, had told the Foreign Office that they intended to use "reduced pricing strategies for further tourists to be enticed to Tunisia following the Bardo attack".

Police joy over device success

POLICE have claimed that the installation of a dome-hawk camera to prevent anti-social behaviour in Streetly has been successful.

The bus shelter in Bridle Lane had become a congregation point for a number of youths causing problems for residents and users of the bus shelter, it was reported earlier this year.

The town's local neighbourhood policing team received a number of calls from local residents about the youths, leading to increased patrols and the installation of a dome-hawk camera.

Sgt Joanne Winters, from the Streetly neighbourhood police team, said: "A dome-hawk camera has now been installed at the location and officers will be regularly viewing it to identify youths acting in an anti-social manner and warning letters will be issued. Since the deployment of the dome-hawk camera all problems have seemed to cease."

Students' talents really click in contest

PHOTOGRAPHS taken by students from Walsall College claimed first prize in a regional competition.

Talented students at the college took part in the recent Midlands regional British Institute of Professional Photography competition.

After entering into categories including illustrative, commercial and advertising against degree level students, two college pupils won first prize, with another receiving a merit.

Damian Addis and Luke Smith were victorious in the professional and student advertising categories, while HND student Fruzsina Schreck was given the merit.

In addition former Degree students, Kristofer Green, Tracy Watkin-Smythe and Michael Scott were named as runners-up in the Professional Portraiture, Illustrative and Friend of the BIPP categories, respectively. Photography Lecturer at Walsall College, Ian Male, said: "This is the third consecutive year our students have achieved success in this prestigious competition.

"We are delighted their talents have been recognised and it is a great credit to Damian in particular that his work as a student has been recognised in the professional category."

The college was awarded with affiliation to the BIPP in 2013 in recognition of the professional teaching standards on its photography courses.

Head of Curriculum for Photography, Alan Tyler said: "We are committed to working in partnership with professional bodies to ensure students gain the highest level of skills in line with industry standards, and are delighted that their talents have been recognised by the BIPP."

NEWS IN BRIEF

Off-road riders hope on camera

POLICE are looking to install a camera to catch people riding off-road motorbikes on park land in Aldridge.

Concerns have been raised by residents in the area to the neighbourhood policing team in relation to the bikes being used at Berryfields, Leigh and Gretton Crescent.

Police have said they will step up patrols in response to the calls and are looking to install a dome-hawk camera to combat the 'historical and seasonal problem'.

Sgt Joanne Winters, of the Aldridge South and Central neighbourhood police team, said: "The local neighbourhood team have received a number of calls relating to the use of off road motorbikes around the Berryfields park land."

Spirited students on awards list

A GROUP of Walsall students has been shortlisted for the prestigious Britain Has Spirit awards in recognition of its charity work.

Ten Shire Oak Academy students currently volunteer to deliver lessons across the week to their peers, teaching a variety of skills including drama, singing, piano and guitar. The group is one of three regional finalists and if successful, they can win £1,000 to host a street party for their community.

If they win the regional vote, they will also be entered into the national competition and stand a chance of winning £25,000 for the charity.

Library to mark 10th birthday

BROWNHILLS Library will be celebrating its 10th birthday with a free party. In the 10 years since the library opened at the Parkview Centre building it has welcomed over half a million visitors.

To help the library celebrate the landmark on June 11 a birthday party for all ages has been organised, starting at 10:30am.

Included in the activities will be a chance to see a special exhibition of Brownhills Past and Present provided by the photographic, local studies and archive collections of Walsall Local History Centre.

Micropub set for town in former shop

A MICROPUB is to open in Rugeley under new plans at a former computer repair shop at Fernwood Shopping Centre. The precinct's original pub, The Moderation, closed and a convenience store took its place.

The micropub would be part of a parade of 13 shops. The move was welcomed by Chris Southall, Cannock Chase Camra branch spokesman. He said: "Any new pub opening is good news for the town and ale drinkers locally."

Bird says Tories will soon be back in power

THE Conservatives in Walsall have vowed to be back in power in a 'very short space of time', after losing control of the council to a Labour/Liberal Democrat axis.

Councillor Mike Bird, the leader of Walsall's Tory group and former leader of the council, made the comments after his party were officially ousted.

Councillor Mike Bird

Councillor Bird, who earlier this month blasted 'lazy' voters in Walsall for not turning up to the polls, said: "At the end of the day we have to accept that it is all about numbers and we have to win those numbers back."

"I am fairly confident that the Conservatives will be back in power in a very short space of time but only time will tell with the electorate."

"We will be as transparent and as robust as possible in opposition but we have to take into account most stuff goes through the cabinet and we will have to scrutinise those decisions."

Upbeat

"The socialist policies are different to ours and as a result we will view them on that basis."

"I think you have to remain upbeat, I have been in this game for 36 years going onto 39 at the end of my term and you do have ups and downs. This is one of the troughs we are in now but we will dust ourselves off and come back and fight again."

"I was already elected unopposed and will remain on as leader as long as they want me."

He was in a surprisingly jubilant mood after his party were officially voted out last Wednesday night.

With the council currently split 30/30, with the Labour mayor having the casting vote, Councillor Bird routinely quipped 'I bet this will be 30!' and 'this will be close' as various votes were counted on the night, as well as adding 'If I was betting man I think I know how many votes this will be'.

Icing on cake for Bernard's 105th

Bernard Rogers, aged 105, seen with his grandson, Bruce, his son and wife, Brian and Gwendoline

HE celebrated his birthday with cake and a waltz with his daughter-in-law, which is not bad going when you're 105. Bernard Rogers, smartly dressed in a suit and tie, was surrounded by family and friends at the Shrubbery nursing home in Wednesbury.

Five years ago, on his 100th birthday, he was treated to a match at Villa Park to watch his beloved Aston Villa beat Liverpool in the last game of the season. Until a year ago he still attended his local club, the Sons of Rest in Hilltop, West Bromwich, three times a week to play snooker with people 30 years his junior.

But he gave up his home in Hill Top, where he was still living independently, 12 months ago after suffering three falls. His only child, son Brian, said: "He's not very impressed with Villa this season. He says they're playing terrible."

His father, who grew up in Lozells, Aston, went to games when tickets were 6d (less than 3p) for children and a shilling (5p) for adults. Bernard, who has one grandson, Bruce, started work at 14 in the lighting industry selling oil lamps and lamp glasses in Birmingham.

From 1942 to 1976 he also worked as a volunteer special constable, covering a beat between Wednesbury and Darlaston. He puts his longevity down to having his son later in life, which helped keep him active, and not overdoing the beer. Now he is looking forward to becoming a great-grandfather as 32-year-old Bruce's partner Dayna is expecting their first child.

AS another Chelsea Flower Show slips into history, I reflect once again on the endless joys of gardening and how profoundly grateful I am that people find time to do it. Other people.

SUCH is the march of the mobile phone that many landline phones barely ring from one day to the next. In fact, this week comes a new landmark; it is now reckoned that half of all landline calls are nuisance calls. I took one only the other day. A call-centre lady, speaking in a strong Indian accent began, in all seriousness: "Hello. My name is Cherie Johnson." I informed her that my name was Father Christmas. We hung up at the same moment.

WHEN will they ever learn? In the 2001 Census, nearly 400,000 Brits declared their religion as "Jedi knight." In this year's competition to find a name for the UK's new research vessel, more than 100,000 voted for "Boaty McBoatface." You might imagine that by now the authorities would have realised you can no longer ask the Great British Public a sensible question and get a sensible answer. We are now told that the 2021 Census may include a question on our sexuality and gender. Let me be the first to out myself as Neutral McNewface.

AS is so often the case, life imitates Brian. There is a scene in Monty Python's Life of Brian when a bunch of soothsayers are vying for the attention of passers-by with their prophecies. One unusually precise soothsayer, speaking in a strong Ulster accent, declares that: "For the demon shall bear a nine-bladed sword. Nine-bladed! Not two or five or seven, but nine." I am reminded of him as the Remain lobby assure us with great precision that if we leave the EU the average cost of a family's shopping will rise by exactly £220 while GDP will drop by precisely 3.6 per cent and 820,000 jobs – not 800,000 or 850,000 – will be lost. Coming soon: the Brexit plague of 1,999,997 locusts.

THE university of East Anglia has advised students not to throw their mortar boards into the air at their graduation ceremonies but to choose the "safer" option of miming the throw and having images of mortar boards digitally added to the photos. How many students have been slain by falling mortar boards is not disclosed. If the traditional graduate headgear is so dangerous, perhaps students should throw something else into the air, something light that all students possess and will cause no injury. Unpaid electricity bills, overdraft refusals, county-court judgments and so on.

On the buses for services revamp

BUS services in the Black Country have been revamped – with timetables changing and bus stops pulled from some routes.

National Express has revealed updated services for the region. There will be changes to bus times and routes, with an increase in congestion cited as a major reason for the alterations, which came into effect from Sunday. Many bus services along busy routes will only see minor changes to timetables, but some areas will see some services stop running all together.

Two services that will see the most changes are bus services between West Bromwich and Great Barr, and West Bromwich and Wolverhampton. A section of the route for the number 46 bus between West Bromwich and Great Barr will stop running.

This will be the service that runs from the Scott Arms, in Great Barr, and Asda Queslett.

For the bus services from West Bromwich to Wolverhampton, the number 79 bus, which runs through Wednesbury, Darlaston and Bilston, one section of the route will stop running and another will see twice as many buses running.

Operators say 'the route in Darlaston will be revised' – there will no longer be a service for bus stops in Wolverhampton Street and Stafford Road. Instead all journeys operating between Dangerfield Lane and Darlaston will have a double run.

This will include stops in St Lawrence Way, Pinfold Street and Moxley Road. To see the full changes to bus services visit nxbus.co.uk/west-midlands/information.

Cameron's Maguluf goof after 75 shots

THIS is the British tourist who keeled over in the street after he claimed to have downed 75 shots of booze.

Cameron Relf, aged 18, from Walsall, had been drinking with pals at Lush Bar in Magaluf, allegedly encouraged by shot girls and the gaggles of tourists.

Cameron Relf

But Cameron's boozy bender turned sour after he necked a lethal volume of Sambuca and caramel vodka – a move that saw him wake up in hospital.

Cameron, who works for a food purchasing firm, had been drinking with friends Matthew and James, but was left on his own after one went back to the hotel to sleep and the other went to withdraw cash.

After an eight-hour stay in hospital that saw Cameron hooked up to a drip, Spanish doctors discharged him, where he went back to the room he had booked at the HSM Sunset Beach hotel. For the rest of the holiday, which was due to end on Sunday, Cameron was planning on getting back on the booze, suggesting that he might switch to drinking jagerbombs to avoid another trip to hospital.

Cameron said: "There were shot girls walking around the bar that we were in and although other people bought a couple off of them, we just couldn't say no and kept getting more."

"I had about 75 shots in total of Sambuca and caramel vodka. Some of the bar staff were cheering me on and we had made friends with some of the other British tourists out there too. I tried to get back to the room, but had to be helped by the bar staff and other tourists – that's when I went to hospital. When I woke up, the doctors were pretty short with me and only took my insurance details before sending me on my way. But that's what you do in Magaluf."

Hospital for pair in crash

A MAN and a woman were taken to hospital after a smash in Willenhall.

The incident happened just before 7.30am last Thursday morning on Wolverhampton Road West and involved a red Ford Transit van and a car. Nine fire fighters attended the scene split between one crew from Walsall fire station and one from Willenhall fire station.

A spokesman for West Midlands Fire Service said: "One adult male was released from the van and one female adult removed herself from the car prior to our arrival. Both taken to hospital by the ambulance service. They were in attendance along with the police. We made the road and the cars safe and left around 20 past 8."

MP hits out at Sims' new £1k a day role

By Rob Golledge

A WALSALL MP has criticised the sum of money which is being paid to former West Midlands Chief Constable Chris Sims who has taken up a top police job earning £1,000 a day.

Mr Sims, who retired in January with a pension believed to be worth around £150,000 per year, is working as an adviser for the National Police Chiefs Council.

He will work two days a week at a rate of £1,000 a day – worth the equivalent of £260,000 pro rata or £125 per hour based on a normal working day.

As Chief Constable of the country's second largest force he was paid £200,000 a year in salary and benefits and oversaw cuts of £125 million – the highest in the country which saw 1,300 officers lose their jobs.

Austerity

However, Walsall North MP David Winnick, a member of the influential Home Affairs Select Committee said: "People will be somewhat surprised that at the time of austerity when wages have been frozen in many places or increases have been minimal, that someone who has been on a very high salary – and understandably so as a Chief Constable should – once he leaves his job be paid £1,000 per day to work part time."

"People, quite a number of them in my constituency and across the West Midlands, will be raising eyebrows at this figure. It is not unusual for public figures to be paid these amounts but whether that is right is another matter."

A spokesman for the organisation said: "Chris Sims is extremely well-qualified to advise on important national work that aims to improve policing for the public. He will work on a part-time basis which equates to two days a week on a day rate of £1,000."

Lecturers strike for better deal

'OUR working conditions are the students' learning conditions.' That was the message from striking lecturers who last Wednesday took to the picket line outside the University of Wolverhampton at both its City campus in Wulfruna Street, Wolverhampton and Walsall campus in Gorway Road.

They were taking part in the first of two days of strike action over pay and the use of fixed and zero-hour contracts.

It comes after the University and College Union (UCU) rejected a 1.1 per cent pay offer from employers, arguing that universities could afford to pay more after the pay and benefits of university leaders went up by 5.1 per cent last year.

The union is also concerned about the increased use of zero-hour contracts to cover and replace permanent posts, and the impact that has on students.

Cécile Hatier, a lecturer within the university's Faculty of Art, was one of around 15 academic staff members on the picket line in Wulfruna Street.

She said: "More and more lecturers are being paid for the hours they teach and that's it. For those individuals it is terrible – they don't know what is going to happen next week or next month. It means they can't talk about what changes can be made to modules or what can be done for particular students."

If the pay dispute is not resolved in the coming weeks, members have agreed to further strike action which could affect open days, graduation ceremonies and the clearing process.

Cannabis arrests rise by 40pc in 12 months

THE number of people caught red-handed with cannabis has shot up by more than 40 per cent during the past 12 months, new figures have revealed.

A total of 2,327 people were arrested for cannabis possession in the West Midlands in 2015 – up from 1,618 in the previous year.

Exactly 13,000 have been held by the force since 2011, according to the statistics revealed by a Freedom of Information request.

The overall trend has been downward, with 3,620 arrests in 2011 to 1,618 in 2014 – before the rise in 2015.

Councillor Bob Lloyd, who sits on Sandwell Council's health and adult social care scrutiny board, said it is positive that the numbers have been falling since 2011.

However, he said education about drugs needs to be improved to combat the problems even further. Councillor Lloyd said: "In Sandwell the council has recently launched a campaign with children from RSA Academy with the message that there are serious health risks with these things."

The figures also reveal the total number of possession of cannabis offences and people proceeded against for possession of cannabis from 2011. There were 6,416 in 2011 and fell ever year to 3,315 in 2015. Wayne Little, station commander at Tipton Community Fire Station, issued a warning about the risks of cannabis factories when launching a anti-cannabis campaign earlier this month.

He said: "So-called cannabis factories pose huge risks to those involved, their innocent neighbours and the emergency services. It's often the case that the criminals bypass the power supply, make unsafe structural alterations, and then fill the premises with cultivation equipment that uses huge amounts of power."

Anyone who suspects neighbours of illegally growing and supplying cannabis should call police on 101 or call Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.

Group in road safety concern

A NEIGHBOURHOOD watch group has called for action to be taken to resolve road safety concerns after a crash left a woman and child injured.

The accident took place in Milton Street, Palfrey, on Saturday May 21.

A woman, who suffered bruising, was taken to hospital and a child also suffered cuts to her knee.

The Palfrey and Caldmore neighbourhood watch group says there have been many accidents on the road and has called for agencies to work together to address the issue.

Imran Arif, secretary for the group, said: "Residents having been highlighting the road safety concerns for a while now, which the police and council have failed to address. This concern is long standing and growing."

Council pledge as travellers leave

Part of the encampment of travellers on a grassy area near Yew Tree Road, at The Delves in Walsall, which saw a different group move onto the land

TRAVELLERS have finally moved on from Delves Common in Walsall – leaving piles of rubbish behind.

The group pitched up on the site opposite Delves Junior School at the start of last week, in Bell Lane, The Delves, just a week after another group were at the site.

Police were set to evict them on Friday morning but neighbours say they left late on Thursday night. Walsall Council is said to be looking into the problem.

Palfrey councillor Mohamed Nazir has labelled their return as 'most unwelcome'.

Neighbours nearby the field have spoken of their frustration as they claim loud music was played throughout the night.

One resident, who didn't want to be named amid fears of their safety, said: "I am living under fear in my own home. Why should I have to live under fear? There were kids coming up to the door and ringing the bell. They were playing music and making noise in the middle of the night keeping people awake."

"It has been an ongoing problem for the last year that won't go away. They will keep on coming back."

The travellers left behind gas canisters, piles of bin bags full with rubbish and even a children's quad bike.

Walsall Council were in attendance from 10am on Friday morning to clear up the mess. The playing fields at the common recently underwent a £400,000 upgrade to clean up the once contaminated land.

The borough has been plagued by traveller camps in recent years, with the cost of clearing up sites reaching £70,000 for 2015. Popular locations have included Goscote Lodge Crescent, Delves Common and Broadway West Playing Fields.

Palfrey councillor Mohamed Nazir said: "We had just finished cleaning up the site and this return is most unwelcome. We will look at solutions."

NEWS IN BRIEF

Diabetics warned against fasting

MUSLIM diabetics in Birmingham have been urged not to put their health at risk by fasting during the forthcoming month of Ramadan.

Throughout Ramadan, which will run from June 7 to July 6, most Muslims are required to refrain from eating and drinking during daylight hours.

But diabetics are sometimes exempt from this if fasting would put their health at risk. Therefore diabetics who do choose to fast are strongly advised to seek advice from a health professional before Ramadan.

Witness call after stabbing in street

A MAN was stabbed in a Walsall street last Tuesday night. Police were called to Countess Street, Palfrey just after 11pm by ambulance colleagues who were treating a man for a stab wound.

West Midlands Police believe the man had been assaulted outside a social club in Caldmore Green several minutes earlier. He was taken to hospital and treated for a puncture wound to his lower back.

His condition is described as stable. Any witnesses are asked to call DC Narinderjit Sandhu on 101.

Two lanes shut following crash

A CRASH between two cars shut two lanes of the M6 in the Black Country.

Traffic backed up after the smash at around 2.30pm, last Monday, between junctions 6 and 7 for Great Barr heading southbound.

The lanes were gradually reopened as the cars and debris were removed from the motorway. The motorway reopened fully at around 3.15pm but traffic moved slowly for a while afterwards. No-one is thought to have been seriously hurt.

Man treated after three-car collision

A MAN was taken to hospital after a three car collision during morning traffic in Walsall. The crash took place on Chester Road, Streetly, at 7.45am, near a bus stop, last Thursday.

Three people were seen by paramedics with a woman treated for shock and a man taken to Good Hope Hospital with neck pains. The other driver was not injured. The fire service sent an engine from Sutton Coldfield and the police were requested as coolant was leaking from one of the vehicles.

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Brian Stanley feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 5 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done.'

We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service Wolverhampton and the surrounding area and Brian is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people

I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Brian a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!'

Warden's moan just ticket for hypocrisy

YOU know that parking enforcement is going too far when even the traffic wardens are complaining about it.

After years of platitudes about "keeping the traffic moving" and "keeping the public safe", a disgruntled warden in Dudley has revealed they are being told to issue an average of 4.7 tickets each a day to meet budget targets.

I would love to say that comes as a surprise, but really it is right up there with the revelation that Big Daddy used to like his grub.

It has long been my belief that the vast majority of parking tickets are nothing to do with either road safety or the free flow of traffic.

They are simply councils fining people for minor breaches of rules that they dreamt up themselves.

And ticketing targets for traffic wardens are the price we pay for the dreadful decision to take parking enforcement away from the police and to hand it over to local authorities.

Well here's an idea. Let's get rid of all civil parking wardens, the whole lot of them, and use the money to take on a few extra police. It might only be a handful of extra officers, but I'm sure they will come in handy.

And in return? Well, leave it to the police to deal with the small number of instances where there is a real issue of public safety or obstruction.

That will, of course, mean there is nobody to enforce the majority of parking offences, the ones that are nothing to do with public safety but simply people parking in places the council does not approve of. Never mind, I'm sure life will go on.

FANTASTIC story about burglary victim Yannick Read, who responded to the theft of his £1,000 racing bike by coming up with what surely must be the ultimate anti-theft device.

His gadget not only features a 150-decibel siren, but also a shotgun-style cartridge packed with gunpowder. This means the bike really does go up in smoke if some light-fingered little low-life tries to half-inch it. What's not to like?

What I don't understand, though, is why anyone would spend £1,000 on a bike. Maybe I'm sounding like the dad of the Yellow Pages advert.

DR HENRY Heimlich, who invented the lifesaving Heimlich manoeuvre in 1974, used his own technique for the first time last week.

The 96-year-old performed the procedure on a fellow resident of a care home in Cincinnati.

In the US alone, the manoeuvre is credited with saving 100,000 lives. Oh, and David Walliams used it when Simon Cowell choked on a mint. Swings and roundabouts, I guess.

Under cover: the remains of the Dornier bomber

Conservation centre manager Darren Priday looks inside the plane

Taking shape – a propeller from the Dornier Do 17

New chapter written for the 'Flying Pencil'

SOPHIE MADDEN reports on the restoration of the last surviving Second World War 2 German bomber of its type

AT first glance it looks like an unremarkable warehouse, with lighting strips shining down from the roof to show racks of shelving and cargo covered by dark green tarpaulin.

But underneath the covers lies a piece of Second World War military history.

The remains of the last Dornier Do 17 bomber lie sheltered from the elements as part of a project to conserve them for future generations.

The Germans built 1,500 of the bombers. The one now sitting in the Conservation Centre at RAF Museum Cosford was raised from the bottom of the Strait of Dover in the English Channel almost three years ago.

The Dornier and its many small components were sprayed with a citric acid solution for months in order to clear them of debris from their time under the water. There still remains more work to be done before the plane can go on permanent display.

Materials

On completion, the plane's permanent display will be the first time it has been seen since November, where it was the centre-piece of the museum's Conservation Centre Open Day.

Darren Priday, RAF Museum conservation centre manager, said they were waiting on confirmation from project adviser, Professor Mary Ryan from the Imperial College London, on how best to treat the metal before the aircraft goes on display to the public.

He said: "It is now in the hands of the museum's design and interpretation team to decide how the aircraft should be displayed and what supporting materials should be included in order to tell the story."

The Dornier's twin-engine, twin-fin configuration, together with the narrow fuselage and shoulder-mounted engines, gave the aircraft a distinctive silhouette and earned it the nickname 'The Flying Pencil'.

Workers at RAF Cosford Museum reapplying the cover to protect the aircraft name 'The Flying Pencil'. More than 400 were employed by the Luftwaffe during the Battle of Britain in the Second World War.

At the time of the Dornier's recovery, it was unclear just how much of the aircraft could be saved following more than 70 years on the seabed. The process so far has seen the aircraft systematically sprayed – inside purpose-built hydration tunnels – with a low concentration citric acid-based solution.

Confident that the citric acid solution has done its job, the fuselage was removed from the tunnels in early September 2014 and has undergone an intense wash down, before being moved into the Conservation Centre. Technicians then began working on the Dornier full time, cleaning and scraping and removing debris by hand.

The gradual process of removing the thick layer of marine deposits revealed several bullet holes and shrapnel damage on the airframe, plus small areas of the original paint finish.

The plane was shot down by the RAF on August 26 1940. Part of a large enemy formation, it was intercepted at noon as it tried to attack airfields in Essex.

This particular aircraft was forced to make an emergency landing on Goodwin Sands at low tide after an attack by Defiant fighters of No 264 Sqn that left both engines stopped and the crew wounded. Now deposits have been removed, conservationists have found bullet holes and shrapnel damage.

While working on some of the smaller components, volunteers also discovered push rods still coated in their original oil and when a pipe was removed from a fuel injection unit, a small amount of fuel was still present.

While smaller components are still receiving conservation treatment, the Dornier's forward fuselage, tail boom and wing have been temporarily covered by tarpaulins.

Under the coverings with the plane's parts is a dehumidifier which controls the environment and reduces humidity.

The need for appliance is all washed up

I CANNOT for any reason see why there could be 20 or more for dinner, which after nearly 40 years of marriage it's an old East End tradition we kept up when we moved from London.

We have more than enough space, seating, crockery and cutlery to accommodate everyone, and it goes without saying that the pots and pans required would do an army cookhouse proud.

As you can imagine the cleaning and tidying up after everyone has left is an enormous task, and my wife and I attack the issue with gusto, I clean down, and stack, my wife washes up, I then dry and put away, job done.

While we stand and do something

Foodbanks' efforts are supported

I WHOLEHEARTEDLY support foodbanks, celebrate the vital work done by armies of volunteers and make donations when I can.

The offer of energy vouchers is an important additional lifeline to those in the greatest need. Any of us could find ourselves in crisis and foodbank users come from all walks of life. However it is a national disgrace that our most vulnerable and needy citizens have been left to resort to charity to simply eat and survive. Our once-cherished welfare state is slowly being dismantled with a heartless glee by our current government.

Basically, look after yourself, government provides no support and does not care and if you are in any kind of need only charities are there for support. It really is time to let our Government know that we are a compassionate nation and will no longer tolerate this continued assault on those most in need.

My conversion to the European cause

I HESITATE to quarrel with B K Williams and J Stretton I entirely agree with their strictures on the appalling Transatlantic Trade and Investment Partnership proposal.

In response to Williams, I would say only that my earlier letter was concerned only to defend the legitimacy of Obama's intervention to clarify US policy. If a Turkish candidate offered himself for election on the basis of a promise that Turks would have a right of entry to the UK, it would be at least the right – and arguably the duty – of the British prime minister to disabuse Turkish voters of any illusion that this would happen. Likewise, Obama has a right, or duty, to correct dubious assertions by Brexit advocates about the US government's probable future actions.

I would also agree with Stretton that Corbyn's conversion to remaining in the EU is probably pragmatic. If he or she is right, I fall under the same condemnation, for I have made an equally pragmatic conversion. In the 1970s, the argument against remaining in what was then called the Common Market was made in clear socialist terms – that it was completely and irrevocably dedicated to capitalism and the interests of bosses.

SO David Cameron and Sir Brendan Barber warn us what will happen if we come out of the EU – a threat to jobs, wages, prices, etc.

Don't they mean that this is what will happen if we stay in? After all, their words remind me of the trouble we had after we originally joined back in the 70s. Do you think there will be enough jobs for our own, and do not mention the ever increasing pressure NHS and other public resources, over-burdened by the ongoing influx of migration due to the cherished freedom of movement.

I believe leaving the EU will give us a chance to avoid this ongoing and downward spiralling drudgery. And what's more, that chance will be granted without handing a load of money in wages and expenses to a further unnecessary bunch of politicians, executives and policy people in Brussels. If in doubt get out.

10 Youngsters on song to celebrate cultures

Children from Salisbury School taking part in the Darlaston Community Festival at All Saints Church in the town

A ONE-DAY festival for the Walsall community has taken place at All Saints Church. The festival was part of a celebration of the range of cultures across the borough.

As well as being awash with colour there was also a range of music featuring African drummers, a reggae band and a Punjabi band. In the run-up to the festival, which took place in Darlaston this past Saturday, various cultural exchange visits have been taking place in the borough. The weekend before last, Muslims visited St Gabriel's church after members of the church visited their mosque.

Gilbert David, the current Reverend of All Saints Church, said: "This was a great opportunity for faith groups and for those of no faith to throw open their doors and welcome each other into our places of worship. Darlaston has an enviable reputation as a town where different communities get on together exceptionally well."

The event was organised by the Walsall Multi-faith Forum and funded by Walsall Housing Group, with the programme of events having been supported by Walsall Council, All Saints Church, local schools, mosques and temples.

Guests on the day were given the opportunity to see a showcase of local arts and take part in crafts activities, meet grassroots enterprises, voluntary and third sector organisations and learn about recruitment opportunities with local employers.

Homeserve team on hand to help bosses of future

BUSINESS leaders from Walsall company HomeServe have been giving their tips to a group of Black Country students to try and help them learn how to succeed in the world of business.

An eight-strong team of HomeServe volunteers was on hand to judge a host of business ideas put forward by pupils from a number of Black Country schools as part of the area finals of the Young Enterprise Company Programme, held recently at Wolverhampton University.

The next generation of entrepreneurs and business leaders put over their business ideas, ranging from social enterprises and revision aides to food and fashion.

John Greaves, HomeServe's brand director, said: "As the largest employer in Walsall, we are keen supporters of our local community and really enjoy giving back, especially when it comes to sharing our business experience with the next generation.

"We are incredibly lucky to have such a fantastic pool of potential talent right here in the Black Country."

The winning team in this year's regional Young Enterprise final was ReviseWise from Windsor High School with their idea for an online revision hub complete with revision booklets. They will now go on to a regional competition, facing other area winning schools from across the region.

If they are then successful, they will move on to a national final, which will be broadcast on national television.

Kamran Hussain, young enterprise manager for the Black Country, Birmingham and Solihull, said: "The Company Programme is a valuable programme, teaching young people the basics of business – not in a classroom setting, but in a wonderfully entertaining format."

No Hidden generosity from band

A WALSALL band will double up as charity volunteers at an upcoming festival for a cause close to their hearts.

This year's Bands on the Beacon event on July 3 will see Hidden Skies donating their time to help children's charity Acorns Children's Hospice. The rock band, who will headline the event, will be showing their softer side by volunteering on the charity stall when they are not performing on the day.

Lead singer Alexander Lenehan has a personal association to the charity through his mother who works for Acorns in the Black Country, based in Walsall, as a nurse.

Richard Sehdeva, lead guitarist, said: "This charity uses every penny it raises to do some amazing things that are truly life altering."

The band will also be donating some of their profits to the cause.

Hereford to Carlisle - Travel by steam around the breathtaking Cumbrian coast

WEST COAST RAILTOURS

Departs Tuesday 14th June 2016

Travel in MkI or MkII carriages from: Worcester, Droitwich, Walsall, Bloxwich, Cannock & Rugeley - BOOK NOW!

For the lover of rail this is a must. Travel behind a vintage diesel engine in some of the oldest MkI or MkII Carriages in operation today all beautifully restored.

The thrill of steam travel and dramatic scenery is offered aboard this circular tour which takes us around the English Lakes and along the visually stunning Cumbrian Coast. From our earlier pick up points we head north through the Midlands on another timeless journey across some of the finest countryside in Great Britain. In beautifully restored MkI or MkII carriages we make our outward journey, with heritage diesel in charge, as we thunder up the West Coast Main Line. From our reserved seat we take in the magnificent mountain scenery of the English Lake district as our train passes through Oxenholme and makes the climb to Shap Summit. We have free time in the border city of Carlisle with its castle, city gate and pedestrianised centre. For our return journey steam traction takes over and our route along the Cumbrian Coast is second to none. We'll steam through Maryport with sweeping sea and Cumbrian mountain views and the sandy expanse of Morecambe Bay. After this memorable journey, we arrive at Carnforth where we say goodbye to our steam engine and once again return to diesel traction for our homeward journey.

Home with pool,
yours for £1.2m

The £1.2 million, five-bedroom luxury home, complete with its own swimming pool and snooker room

IT may not be your typical house on the market — but this five-bedroom property in the Black Country costs £1.2million. Alongside the bedrooms the home, located on Jesson Road, also features a swimming pool and snooker table.

Paul Carr Estate Agents has described the house as 'undoubtedly one of the finest homes to come on the market in Walsall for some time'.

Director Mark Bentley said: "This property offers every feature you could wish for. It is maintained to a very high standard. An ideal property for a successful local businessperson or for a footballer from one of our local teams, Wolves, Walsall or West Bromwich."

"The property is set in a very sought after location amongst other calibre homes and yet is only a short drive for the centre of Walsall and to the M6 and the M5."

"Beechmont" is undoubtedly one of the finest homes to come on the market in Walsall for some time. Some of the most popular calibre roads in Walsall include Jesson Road, Gorway Road, The Broadway, Charlemont Road and Skip Lane."

Fraudster worked two shifts on wards

A MAN worked two shifts at Walsall's Manor Hospital by pretending to be a qualified health worker able to look after elderly, vulnerable patients.

Moses Okafor, aged 37, admitted fraud between October 20 and October 31 last year and possessing an article for use in fraud on October 30 last year.

He has been locked up for six months and is now facing deportation back to Nigeria. Okafor, of Arling-ton Road, Yardley Wood, was rumbled when he was assaulted by a 'challenging' patient and after checks were made it was discovered he had been using a false identity to work.

Recorder Abigail Nixon, who presided over the case at Wolverhampton Crown Court, said to Okafor: "Your actions potentially posed a serious risk because you had no idea how to treat those suffering from dementia."

"I do not accept for one moment that you were duped. You knew full well you entered that hospital on a fraudulent basis."

Mr Mark Phillips, prosecuting, said Okafor, a man of previous good character, maintained he had been exploited by others working in what was a "highly organised fraud."

He said Okafor had been handed a legitimate identity card and his own photograph had been stuck on top of a picture of the genuine card holder. "It was clear he had worked at the Manor Hospital on at least two occasions," said Mr Phillips who told the court Okafor insisted he had been paid just £50 for his services.

Miss Saleema Mahmood, defending, said Okafor who had applied for asylum after his visa came to an end had been in a "desperate" situation and he sought the assistance of a friend to find work. He provided a passport photograph, he was then given the official identification card.

The Leicester Square junction on Newhampton Road in the early 1900s

The Newhampton Road/Kingsland Road junction leading to West Park

This postcard depicts Newhampton Road in the early 1900s

Area is picture perfect in postcards from the past

IT'S hard to believe one of Wolverhampton's most deprived areas was once so picturesque.

These postcards reveal how Whitmore Reans looked in the early 1900s, a world away from how it looks today.

The first picture looks down Newhampton Road at the dead-end spur in the tram tracks, which was the original terminal point when electric trams were first introduced to Whitmore Reans. Trams began running to Leicester Square in 1902, in time for the opening of the Wolverhampton Arts and Industrial Exhibition of that year.

By August 11, 1902, the tram tracks had been extended the entire length of Newhampton Road.

The tracks joined the tram lines on the Tettenhall Road to serve Newbridge, but this through service was a short-lived operation that ended in late 1903.

The incredibly detailed image depicts shops and houses on the left hand side of the road, young schoolboys looking into the camera and one of the earliest cars driving into the distance.

MEMORY LANE

By Nick Humphreys

The second postcard features clear skies while people travel via horse and carriage and mingle in Leicester Street.

Dave Clare, who runs the Wolverhampton in Old Photos Facebook Group, has accumulated a collection of thousands of postcards depicting Wolverhampton scenes over the last 40 years.

The retired university learning centre manager, aged 66, said: "One is the end of Leicester Road and the other is looking down Newhampton Road."

"They are from about 1905 or 1906, when there was really a boom in postcards. They were done from black and white photographs, with the colour added in afterwards. I think it really brings them to life."

"I suppose beauty is in the eye of the beholder. The thing is, if you go down there and try and take pictures now, it's so busy. You have to jump in between cars."

He added: "It used to be quite an upper to middle class area in Whitmore Reans, so it looks very different to what it does now."

"A lot of people have commented saying what a lovely area it used to be."

Of the Facebook group, he said: "It's quite a busy group really, we've got about 14,000 members. A lot of people are active on there, having a look at the page every day, liking and commenting on the pictures."

Lovely

"It's good for people to be able to look back on the old days."

Facebook users posted their reminiscences about the Whitmore Reans of old. David Langford said: "It was a lovely place when I was young." Sue Morey agreed, saying: "What a lovely area Whitmore Reans was."

An Cunio added: "Loved growing up there spent all the summer holidays in the West Park."

Killer of student, 20, gets 33-year sentence

VIOLENT and 'sexually motivated' killer Steven Beards has been jailed for 33 years for raping and murdering a vulnerable Walsall student while his wife was found guilty of her manslaughter.

A jury convicted the 34-year-old, formerly of Rowland Avenue but later of no fixed address, after less than four hours of deliberation.

He was made to wait to find out what his punishment was until they had determined the fate of his wife Julie Beards, 36.

And by a majority of ten to two, they concluded Julie Beards, who has learning difficulties, was guilty of manslaughter in relation to 20-year-old Susan Whiting, but found her not guilty of murdering the victim under joint enterprise with her husband. They also indicated they were unlikely to reach a conclusive verdict on a rape charge against Julie and were subsequently discharged on that count. Her sentencing has been adjourned until a later date.

Miss Whiting, who had a learning impairment, was found dead under a duvet bed at Julie's bungalow in Heather Close, Bloxwich on Tuesday, August 18 last year, after visiting two days earlier for a sleepover.

She had been drugged with hypnotic sleeping agent Zopiclone, then raped by Steven who strangled her and delivered three fatal hammer blows to the young woman's head. Steven maintained his innocence despite substantial evidence against him including his DNA on the murder weapon.

When taking the stand at Leicester Crown Court, he claimed another person could have entered the home to kill Miss Whiting and frame him using a pot of his semen he kept in the bathroom.

Youngsters dancing for joy

A DANCE group from Willenhall are celebrating after a host of medals were won in a recent competition.

The Next Generation School of Dance, who train at The Chart Centre in Gomer Street, came first in 23 competitions at the Stourport dance championships.

As well as this, 15 finished in second place, eight in third and 17 in fourth, fifth and sixth places.

Since next generation has opened its doors, the group have been asked to participate in three Let's Dance theatre shows, taken part in two exclusive VIP red carpet events, including a New Year's Eve extravaganza and working with the Willenhall Ay We! group. They have also attended lectures and been asked to participate in the local carnivals to showcase their talent.

Trained by Lauren Fletcher and Sophie Eaton-Lees, the kids have been 'working hard week-in-week-out' and the pair are both 'very proud'. Lauren said: "We took home a massive total of 63 trophies between the dancers which is a huge achievement."

The school offers disco free style dancing for those aged three and above as well as rock 'n' roll, street, slow and contemporary, fitness and show classes.

To find out more about the Next Generation School of Dance head over to their Facebook page. Alternatively for further details on sessions and classes call 07470 711284.

Step aboard the oldest commissioned warship in the world and proud memorial to Britain's greatest naval hero.

Between 1778 and 1812, HMS Victory took part in five naval battles - Trafalgar being the most famous and last, in which she lived up to her name and carried Vice Admiral Nelson to victory.

Today, she has become one of the UK's favourite visitor attractions and this is a wonderful opportunity to experience life on board this iconic vessel.

Explore the once crowded decks where over 800 men lived, worked and fought. Highlights include the Great Cabin where the Battle of Trafalgar was planned, the Quarter Deck, with a plaque marking the spot where Vice Admiral Lord Horatio Nelson was shot, and the Orlop Deck, where Nelson died after receiving news of victory.

View the Mary Rose museum with its state of the art building which houses the most comprehensive collection of Tudor artefacts in the world, the highlight of which is the Mary Rose - Henry VIII's magnificent warship.

Other highlights at the Dockyard include HMS Warrior and the National Museum of the Royal Navy. Free time in the historic city of Winchester is also part of the break.

Hilarity for charity at Grand night out

WOLVERHAMPTON'S own comedy group Pappy's, stars of TV series Badults, are among a stellar line-up of top comics performing at the Hilarity Charity Gala 2016.

Comedy sketch trio Pappy's are Matthew Crosby, Ben Clark and Tom Parry, with Ben and Tom both being former members of Central Youth Theatre.

The trio have enjoyed four years of sell-out shows at the Edinburgh Festival Fringe and were Chortle Award winners in 2008 and 2013.

They found national fame with their BBC3 series Badults, which is now available on Netflix, an anarchic comedy about the misadventures of three flatmates.

Podcast

Pappy's also have a popular podcast called Bangers And Mash available via their www.pappyscomedy.com website. Central Youth Theatre is hosting its third Hilarity Charity Gala at Wolverhampton's Grand Theatre on Monday when a host of comedians, many familiar from top TV shows, present a rib-tickling night to raise money for the theatre group.

The line-up includes Birmingham stand-up Joe Lycett from 8 out of 10 Cats, Live at the Apollo, Never Mind the Buzzcocks and Celebrity Juice. Joe is a former Chortle Student Comedian of the Year and has been a guest for Scott Mills, Greg James and

Home gig in Wolverhampton for Pappy's comedy group as part of the Hilarity Gala

Nick Grimshaw on BBC Radio 1 and one of Radio 4's Just A Minute panel.

Also performing will be Adam Riches from Horrible Histories and The Detectorists; Nish Kumar from Have I Got News For You and Russell Howard's Stand Up Central; Spencer Jones of sit-com Upstart Crow; Ivo Graham of BBC Radio 5 Live's Fight- ing Talk and ITV's Elevenish; and the evening will again be compered by Perrier award winner Daniel Kitson.

This year's gala is aiming to raise funds for the group's move into a new home in the former Co-Operative building opposite the Grand in Lichfield Street. Tickets are priced £17.50 and £22.50. Call (01902) 429212.

Clare and all that jazz

AWARD-WINNING jazz singer, Radio 2 presenter and former Wolverhampton student Clare Teal will be accompanied by her 16-piece Hollywood Orchestra, led by top arranger and trumpeter Guy Barker, in concert at Wolverhampton Grand Theatre on Sunday.

The UK's Queen of Swing will present Twelve O'Clock Tales based around her latest album, because she says every song has a tale to tell, and as the midnight hour falls so do barriers to innermost thoughts and desires.

Her repertoire will include classics from the Great American and British Songbooks with music from Cole Porter, Billy Strayhorn, Rodgers and Hammerstein to Tim Rice and Sting.

Clare became a familiar voice on radio as presenter of BBC Radio 2's Big Band Special. The Skipton lass discovered jazz via her grandmother's record collection and studied music at Wolverhampton Polytechnic (now university) before entering show business singing jingles. She has been associated with Big Band Special for 12 years.

Talking about her new album Twelve O'Clock Tales, which features the prestigious Hallé Orchestra, Clare said: "This is our most ambitious project to date and being accompanied by the Hallé is an absolute privilege. To be in a room surrounded by 93 incredibly talented musicians wondrously lifting these stunning arrangements right off the page before your eyes makes for a great day out – to actually then add your own voice to the story is a dream come true."

"We're thrilled to be releasing Twelve O'Clock Tales on our own label. It's truly liberating to be in control of what you want to record."

Tickets for Sunday's Grand concert range from £18 to £28. See www.grandtheatre.co.uk or call (01902) 429212.

'This is our most ambitious project to date'

One night only in concert line-up

THERE is a star-studded line-up for a series of one night concerts at Wolverhampton's Grand Theatre (also see above).

Tonight (Thursday) the nation's Nancy, Oliver! star Jodie Prenger, is searching for romance in New York in Andrew Lloyd Webber and Don Black's Tell Me On A Sunday. Soul Legends on Friday features guest George 'Rock Your Baby' McCrae then 'People's Tenor' Russell Watson is in concert on Saturday. Clive John conjures 'The Man In Black' in the Johnny Cash Roadshow on Tuesday. Comedian Stu Francis, singer Maggie O'Hara and Steve Barclay as Max Miller are in Music Hall Memories on Wednesday.

Opera celebrates with Cav and Pag

WELSH National Opera is making a return visit to Birmingham Hippodrome to celebrate its 70th birthday with the classics Cavalleria rusticana and Pagliacci.

The double bill of Cav & Pag, sung in Italian with English surtitles, will be at the Hippodrome on Thursday and Saturday, June 9 and 11. Each opera packs lots of drama and powerful music into just over an hour.

On Friday, June 10, WNO perform In Parenthesis, British composer Iain Bell's adaptation of the epic poem by David Jones about First World War soldiers who enter a magical wood amid the horrors of the Somme.

Singer Corinne's creative rebirth

CORINNE Bailey Rae was worried about not bringing out a record in six years. "I think you have to remind fans of who you are, no matter the length of gap," she says. "But I do feel really lucky the people who follow my music have kept in touch. I feel like there's still a good connection there."

Sophisticated new record The Heart Speaks In Whispers charts Bailey Rae's creative and personal rebirth following the death in 2008 of her husband, saxophonist Jason Rae.

She plays Birmingham Barclaycard Arena on July 7 as support to Lionel Richie before V Festival in August.

7.15 The Restoration Man. Architect George Clarke helps restoration novices Marco and Kath Walker, who have bought a pair of 17th and 18th-century barns in Wellington, Herefordshire. (R)

8.00 Grand Designs. Kevin McCloud follows the progress of Stephen Yeoman and Anita Findlay, who want to build a cutting-edge, post-industrial house covered in rusty metal. However, their prominent riverside plot in the traditional and architecturally conservative area of South Devon means everyone will be watching. The project looks to be a real rollercoaster when the fitting of the rusty steel cladding goes wrong, cash flow problems threaten to bring work to a halt, and the couple announce that a baby is on the way. (R)

9.00 Film: 12 Years a Slave. (2013) Premiere. A free black man living in pre-Civil War New York is abducted and sold into slavery. He spends the next 12 years struggling to survive and maintain his dignity in the face of brutal treatment, while clinging to a desperate hope that he can return to his family. Oscar-winning historical drama based on Solomon Northup's autobiographical book, starring Chiwetel Ejiofor.

A woman whose daughter goes missing spends years obsessing over finding her. She meets a girl who she becomes convinced is her child, and tries to prove that her parents are in fact kidnappers. However, when she cannot find any evidence, she resorts to an abduction of her own. Thriller, starring Moira Kelly and Amanda Tapping. (2012)

FRIDAY

Back to the Future Part III, ITV, 11pm

Time-travelling teenager Marty McFly is transported back to the days of the Wild West, where he strives to save his eccentric scientist friend Doc Brown from death at the hands of a villainous gunslinger. Final instalment in the sci-fi comedy trilogy, starring Michael J Fox, Christopher Lloyd, Mary Steenburgen and Thomas F Wilson. (1990)

The home nation will hope to be on the ball

It's finally time for the big kick-off, and as is customary the host nation gets proceedings under way tonight at the Stade de France.

If you thought that the pressure was high on this side of the Channel, spare a thought for Didier Deschamps French side who go into the tournament as favourites and with the hopes of an expectant nation on their shoulders.

The signs look good though – over the years, the hosts tend to perform well at the Euros, and the French have been victorious in each of the last two major tournaments that they have hosted, winning the European Championships back in 1984 and the World Cup in 1998.

Their current side is strong defensively, formidable in midfield with Paul Pogba, and rife with speedy attacking options.

The one thing they are perhaps missing is a true No.9, as Karim Benzema is suspended from international play.

One of France's greatest ever players, Thierry Henry, is confident that the hosts will be at the national stadium in Paris when the winner is decided in exactly one month's time.

He told Sky Sports: "This is the big one for us. This is the big one for Deschamps and the big one for the team."

"We all know it is not easy to win a tournament at home, but we have done it twice. We have won the Euros in 1984 and the World Cup in 1998 so we have a history of usually winning it when we have the tournament at home."

"France has a good team. The only thing I will say is we haven't played an official game for a long time, so that might be the question mark about the team at the moment."

"I think we have a great team and I'm not saying that because I am French, but I do think they have one of the best teams in Europe."

"I'll tip them to win and I hope they will."

First up for Les Bleus, who also triumphed at Euro 2000 in the Netherlands and Belgium, are Group A rivals Romania.

The Tricolori were defensively the best team in qualifying, conceding just two goals, but they were also the least prolific team that qualified, scoring just 11, so the French may have their work cut out breaking down their opponents this evening.

The tournament itself has been expanded to 24 teams this year, with matches taking place in 10 different host cities.

As far as the TV coverage goes, the BBC and ITV have split it down the middle once again.

Mark Pougatch has proven to be good replacement for previous ITV anchor Adrian Chiles, and the broadcaster has gone all out with its French theme for the Euros.

Promotional work has been done by Eric Cantona, while Emmanuel Petit, Christian Karembeu and Louis Saha have all joined the punditry team.

Ian Wright is also on the team, along with West Ham boss Slaven Bilic.

There is also a return to commentary on ITV for Andy Townsend after a year-long absence.

France take on Romania in Euro 2016, Friday, ITV, 7.15pm

BEST OF THE REST

MONDAY

Reg

BBC1, 9pm

Jimmy McGovern is the writer who brought us the powerful dramas Hillsborough and Sunday, which was based on the events of Bloody Sunday. Now, he's tackling another real-life story, that of Reg Keys (Tim Roth), who in 2003 received the devastating news that his son Tom had been killed in Iraq. As his wife Sally (Anna Maxwell Martin) struggles with her grief, Reg tries to make sense of what has happened, and discovers that three weeks prior to Tom's death, the army had ordered a scale-down in weapons and communications. Convinced this was a mistake on the military's part, Reg makes the decision to stand as an independent candidate in opposition to the Iraq War in the next General Election – and he's going to do it in the constituency of Sedgfield, where he will be running against Prime Minister Tony Blair.

TUESDAY

Big Brother: Live Launch

Channel 5, 9pm

Emma Willis ushers in another diverse group of fame-seeking individuals who have been chosen to spend their summer invading the nation's living rooms. This year, the house has been made over into a stark monochrome world. However, while everything may appear black and white, the new residents will not be alone – they will be under attack from a dark, unseen force designed to have a divisive effect on the entire housemates as they fall victim to paranoia and suspicion.

WEDNESDAY

Power Monkeys

Channel 4, 10pm

New series. Spin-off from the highly acclaimed comedy series Ballot Monkeys, following both sides of the EU referendum, along with prominent international politicians on Donald Trump's campaign plane and inside Vladimir Putin's Presidential office. Creators Andy Hamilton and Guy Jenkin highlight the follies and foibles of contemporary politics, writing much of the show's hours leading up to transmission.

THURSDAY

DIY SOS: The Big Build

BBC1, 8pm

Let's face it, this occasional series holds few surprises these days. Each edition is basically the same – a family struggling to cope in difficult circumstances has their living environment (and possibly their very existence) transformed by Nick Knowles and his team of property experts, with help from the local community. Despite this lack of diversity, viewers always end up shedding buckets of tears at the end – and it's this emotional impact that keeps us coming back for more. In recent months, there have been variations on the theme, with Princes William and Harry getting involved in creating new homes for war veterans, but we're expecting this edition to play out as usual. So, don't forget those handkerchiefs!

Big Brother: Live Launch, Tuesday, Channel 5, 9pm

see the results. The creator of Alex Rider and Foyle's War tells the story of trained detective Rash Sayyad and Stefan Kowalski, a junior case worker at the Serious Fraud Office. They are thrown together by the discovery of the corpse of Mark Henson, one of a group of medical guinea pigs, and an investigation into David Leese.

FRIDAY

The Millionaire's Holiday Club

BBC2, 9pm

Imagine going on holiday to some of the most exclusive destinations money can buy? This two-part documentary goes away with millionaire clients on made-to-measure holidays and takes a behind-the-scenes at a luxury travel agents and their extraordinary efforts to try and provide seven-star holidays. We meet party girl Jane, who since selling her business 12 years ago, has decided to spend the rest of her days on holiday with partner Michael. The couple went on in 2015, and begin this year with a sumptuous Christmas cruise around the Caribbean. Mervyn and Heather, on the other hand, just want a quiet life. Working all year on their Somerset fruit farm, they dream of 10 precious days away sitting on the beach and doing nothing during a stay at one of the most prestigious hotels in Jamaica. But this year is different.

Thinking space

Watch the water on the iconic 10th hole on The Brabazon

Time to relax at the well-stocked Brabazon Bar

Just as grand as it looks with beautifully-kept gardens

Enjoy the spa Fire and Ice Experience

This award-winning family resort is par excellence – and not just for golf

Sue Attwater tees off

AS a novice golfer I can't pretend that I did not feel humbled as we made our way up the sweeping driveway to the famous Belfry Hotel & Resort.

With championship golf courses and several tourist awards I knew we were in for a treat.

With just a few golf lessons under my belt – so no Rory McIlroy – I was way out of my depth. But there was no way I was going to miss the chance to say that I had actually played at the Belfry. Of course it is not just golf that would attract you to this superb hotel at Wishaw, Sutton Coldfield, its tourism awards are well earned.

Do not be intimidated by its name and reputation, grand as it is, it has a knack of making you feel right at home. My husband and I arrived one Friday afternoon and after looking around realised just how much this holiday resort has to offer.

Of course there is the world-famous golf – more of that later – but there is so much more to attract the whole family. There are no shortage of activities and places to eat for the young ones and a nightclub across the drive for the slightly older ones. For the woman in your life – and the sport is becoming more popular with the fairer sex – there is also the spa.

You must treat yourself to a champagne tea, the ultimate in luxury. Our charming waiter James supplied us with a wonderful tiered stand full of sandwiches and cakes – it was like attracting the Ritz.

We were saving the golf until the following morning so on the Friday we headed for the relaxing spa with the Fire and Ice Experience – 90 minutes of sheer bliss and if you are brave enough the ice cold bucket experience. He did, I didn't and I was quite glad after seeing the shocked look on his face.

Totally relaxed, we sat on the balcony and watched as the more experienced golfers tackle the 18th hole on the PGA course. It was easy to relax in the sumptuous room – the lady on reception said we would go 'wow' when we saw it and she was not wrong. The bedroom area was huge with a large en suite and dressing area and adjoining living room. Then, to step out onto the huge veranda with the lovely views – this is the life!

Nightclub

Time to settle there with a glass of wine and watch the others tackle the course and maybe get some tips for the morning. Relaxed and changed we headed off to the Ryder Grill restaurant for a delicious à la carte meal and I could forget the calories as I would work them off on the course the next morning.

Afterwards, if you fancy strutting your stuff, just pop across to the very popular Bel Air Nightclub & Lounge. Entrance is included in many weekend packages. Then after breakfast that was it – what I was waiting for. We headed out to the Derby golf course, the only one of the three where you don't need to have a handicap. As I explained when booking my only handicap was that I couldn't play!

There is also a driving range if you want to try out your skills first. For the little ones there is a small course that replicates some of the famous holes – like the one at Kiawah Island from the 1991 Ryder Cup.

The site has three full courses: The Brabazon, Ryder Cup in 1985, 1989, 1993 and 2002, PGA National, another for experienced players only and the third course The Derby the one we played.

It is available to all standards of players and is roughly 1,000 yards shorter than the other two. Even so, the full 18 holes are a big test of skills and stamina but we did both manage a par on one of the holes. I have not stopped raving about it since!

The Belfry has been nominated for three awards at the World Travel Awards 2016, having been crowned as England's Leading Resort last year. So if you are looking to get away with the family you can't go wrong.

Stunning and spacious home new to the market

This stunning spacious and individually-designed three-bedroomed detached bungalow in High Hill, Essington, has just joined the property market, being for sale through Goodchilds at £324,995 with no chain.

Viewing is highly recommended to fully appreciate the size of the property on offer and also get the feel of the light and airy rooms.

The dining room could easily seat eight people and has French doors that open onto the paved area of the rear garden in the summer months.

It also leads on to the recently fully fitted kitchen which cost over £25,000 and includes coffee machine amongst all other integrated appliances you would expect in a high end kitchen, such as granite worktops and floors.

The deceptive garage opens up to be almost double width at the back, and the driveway accommodates far more vehicles than the average sized drive. When the property was extended all the doors were widened for easy access and a modern wet room has been installed.

All bedrooms have large fitted wardrobes meaning the large bedrooms do not become small when you have to put a wardrobe in afterwards, like many other properties, said a spokesman for the selling agent.

The village location also means you are over the road from fields to walk down, enjoying a fantastic rural walk through fields. The bungalow is also within walking distance of local fishing and duck pools.

A must view, this very well presented and extended three-bedroomed detached bungalow is well maintained.

With double glazing and gas central heating, in more detail it has an entrance porch leading to an entrance hall, a lounge, kitchen, bedroom two, bedroom three and a family bathroom.

The lounge has French doors opening out to the rear and a feature stone clad chimney breast with a gas fire.

The master bedroom has a built-in wardrobe and the en-suite wet room with a heated towel rail. Bedroom two has a bow window overlooking the frontage and a built-in wardrobe, as does bedroom three.

Impressive four-bedroomed detached home set in a highly desirable part of Walsall borough

New to the market, this impressive modern four-bedroom detached situated in Wrekin Grove, part of the Coppice Farm estate in Willenhall, is available for offers based on £300,000.

WILLENHALL
£300,000

It comes complete with a stunning refitted living kitchen, contemporary lounge, conservatory, study, four bedrooms - master with en suite - and a low-maintenance private rear garden.

Estate agent Goodchilds is proud to offer this much improved executive detached property set in the corner of a cul-de-sac and benefiting from a double garage and a rear garden with artificial lawn, meaning it is low maintenance and ideal for the non-gardener.

The property is in a much-sought after location, close to main roads leading to the West Midlands conurbation, as well as further afield with the M6 nearby.

Schools, shops and amenities are all within walking distance.

For further details on this property, contact the estate agent Goodchilds by telephone on 01922 711444 or visit the company's website which is available by logging onto www.goodchilds-uk.com

Apartment is ideal for over-55s to set up home

£89,950

A home for the over-55s, this one-bedded apartment in Wood End Farm, Sutton Road, Walsall, comes with a communal living room, communal extra kitchen and beautifully landscaped and immaculately maintained communal grounds.

It is for sale through Fraser Wood at £89,950.

With double glazing and under-floor heating, it has a reception hall with stair lift to the first floor.

There is a spacious entrance hall, lounge/dining room with Velux windows and partly sloping ceiling, fitted kitchen with contemporary white units that feature modern chrome handles, contrasting black work surfaces and integrated appliances and floor tiling, double bedroom with built-in double wardrobe and an en suite wet room with shower, WC and wash basin in contemporary style, and allocated parking.

For further information, contact Fraser Wood on 01902 606595 or visit the agent's website at www.prestige-estatesuk.com

A 1923 restored Vauxhall returns for special reunion

By James Parker

A 1923 Vauxhall 23/60 made its first long journey after an 18-month mechanical restoration to be reunited with three generations of the previous owner's family at Vauxhall Motors' Heritage Centre in Luton.

Known as Alice, the vintage Vauxhall is now thought to be the most original of the around 90 surviving 23/60s from a total production of 1,300 made at the famous Kington Road factory between 1922 and 1926.

Kay Lorenzato, whose late husband owned the car from the 1950s, was delighted to see it for the first time after its inaugural, post-resto drive from Leicestershire to the last Vauxhall Bedford Owners' Association meeting. Her husband, she said, would have been "proud to see Alice on the road again" after he'd shared so many experiences with the car during the 1950s and 60s.

And Raymond Lorenzato certainly used the car extensively. A Grimsel Pass sticker on the windscreen and three tickets from a cinema in Lucerne found under the seat during restoration were evidence of just some of the European road trips he made in the 50s.

The car also competed in various VSCC events, before being pushed into service as the Lorenzatos' daily transport during the 1960s (including the harsh winter of 1962/63).

Alice was last seen in Luton in 1964 at a 30-98 Register meeting and was on the road for a further three years, before being retired to the family garage with a cracked block.

Talking to Vauxhall staff at the VBOA meeting, Kay Lorenzato had fond memories of attending rallies in Alice with her husband in the early 60s — including one at Brooklands — and recalled how attached they both were to the car.

Well known restorer and vintage racer, Mark Walker, purchased Alice from Kay at a Bonhams Beaulieu auction and over the last year and a half has undertaken a full mechanical restoration.

The block has been repaired and new high-compression pistons fitted, but wherever possible Mark has retained original components, with 'conservation' rather than 'restoration' being his mantra.

And Alice's appearance, which still shows the scars of a 93-year life, has carefully been preserved, with even the original leather trim being saved during the process.

"In Alice, 60mph at 2,000 rpm is still a comfortable and smooth cruising speed and the car keeps up well with modern traffic," said Walker. "Higher speeds are certainly possible, but with only rear brakes, probably not advisable! I intend to use the car as family transport and would love to recreate the trip over the Grimsel Pass one day."

Ladies Basketball Most valuable Player was Lauren Saa

Ellie McFarlane was named the under-11s Coach's Player of the Year

Brunt centre stage for Sporting presentation

BAGGIES star Chris Brunt was the star attraction at the annual Sport club Albion on presentation evening.

More than 300 eager footballers and basketball players flocked to The Hawthorns for the event.

The Northern Ireland international was on hand to distribute the awards as representatives from the girls' centre of excellence, ladies' football and basketball teams flooded the Richardson Suite for a night of celebration.

Sporting Club Albion is an integral part of The Albion Foundation and provides an opportunity for the local community to wear the Baggies' colours in a range of sports. The club has more than 250 players and 20 teams.

Brunt happily handed out awards and posed for photos with the award winners in each age group.

Individual trophies were given for the players' player, coach's player and parents' player of the year. And as is the tradition in basketball, there was a most valuable player (MVP) award.

Unbeaten

Compered by girls centre of excellence manager Louise Scott, the night featured a multitude of videos and photos highlighting an action-packed season which included the under-16 boys' basketball team remaining unbeaten all season and the Sporting Club Albion Ladies side reaching the County Cup final and progressing to the quarter-finals of the Women's FA Cup where they came up against Women's Super League side Manchester City.

Rob Lake, director of the foundation, said: "It was fantastic to see such an excited crowd at another of our end of season awards nights. The atmosphere was electric."

day to join us. Being on stage for the players to have their photo with him really made the night special for them. There is a great trust and respect between the coaches and I felt that was demonstrated with their speeches. I cannot speak highly enough of the group."

The night also featured the announcement that the Sporting Club Albion set up would revert to West Bromwich Albion as of next season, meaning all teams will play under the Baggies name. The evening ended with the distribution of the Peter Rippington Award.

The accolade is in honour of Peter Rippington, who died in 2012. A long-standing supporter of all levels of football, he was teacher at Alvechurch School, and the father of former Club Albion player Amy. Mr Rippington was renowned for being loyal, selfless, and hard working in every aspect of his life, and the recipient of this award shares such traits.

The award is given to the player who, in the eyes of the ladies' coaching team and senior playing staff, has represented the SCA badge with the same loyalty and dedication that Mr Rippington represented his family, his school and his community.

This year, the award was dedicated to four Sporting Club Albion Ladies players - Kelly Darby, Hazzana Parnell, Eleanor Clarke and Billie Haynes - who have lost relatives throughout the season. The awards for Sporting Club Albion Ladies were not distributed due to the team still having a number of games remaining as they battle for the league title and the opportunity to be promoted to the Women's Super League.

Awards were: Girls Centre of Excellence, football Under-11s - Coach's Player of the Year: Ellie McFarlane; Players' Player of the Year: Alannah Meynell; Parents' Player of the Year: Alannah Meynell.

Under-13s - Coach's Player: Anna Craig; Players' Player: Anna Bebb; Parents' Player: Harmonie Cotterell.

Under-15s - Coach's Player: Charlie Whitehouse; Players' Player: Freya Owens; Parents' Player: Katie Clarke.

Under-17s - Coach's Player: Shannon Stamps; Players' Player: Lucy Finch; Parents' Player: Lucy Finch.

Basketball, Under-16 Boys - Coach's Player of the Year: Adam Tiley; Player's Player of the Year: Sulman Suwareh; Boys Most Valuable Player: Connor Lynch.

Under-18 Girls - Coach's Player: Olivia Zegel; Players' Player: Lauren Saa; Girls Most Valuable Player: Louise Scott; Boys - Coach's Player: Tarondeep Nijjar; Players' Player: Jrae Lue; Boys Most Valuable Player: Encossee Richards.

Under-19 Boys - Coach's Player: Matej Dudak; Players' Player: Jamal Brown; Boys Most Valuable Player: Jamal Brown.

Mens - Coach's Player of the Year: Dale Deakin and Dinais Tobi-Lara; Players' Player: Ramone Joseph; Most Valuable Player: Dailian Mason.

Women's - Coach's Player: Abby Watson; Players' Player: Lauren Saa; Most Valuable Player: Fatosh Tozaki.

Peter Rippington Award: Kelly Darby, Hazzana Parnell, Eleanor Clarke, Billie Haynes.

Golfers have sights set on pro-am glory

GOLFING pairs from both Bloxwich and Walsall have set their sights on pro-am glory.

The quest to win the Lombard Trophy will begin for Phil Cooke and his Walsall PGA Professional Ian Proverbs when they tee off for the regional final at Coventry Golf Club on June 7, one of 14 regional finals being staged across the UK.

They will be up against 64 other clubs with the winning club going through to compete in the 36-hole final at Portugal's luxurious Pestana Vila Sol Golf & Hotel resort on the Algarve in September.

The Lombard Trophy is the biggest pro-am competition in Europe and attracts entries from upwards of 700 clubs across Great Britain and Ireland. Lombard originally sponsored the tournament from 1995 to 2006 before returning as headline sponsor in 2013.

Cooke, aged 59, landed the chance for a tilt at qualifying for the grand final when he won his club qualifying competition with a nett score of 68. A retired fireman from Walsall, he has been playing golf for 25 years, playing off a handicap of nine. Proverbs, 44, has been a professional at Walsall for 20 years.

Also chancing their arm at qualifying are Warren Passey and his Bloxwich PGA Professional John Bandurak. They tee off on July 18.

Passey won his club qualifying competition with a nett 68. Aged 30, he delivers new cars and lives in Pelsall. He has a handicap of 19.

Bandurak, 31, has been a professional at Bloxwich for three months.

Last year's winners were PGA Professional Jason Levermore and amateur partner Ben Steed from Channels Golf Club, Essex.

Ian Isaacs, head of Lombard, said: "We'd like to wish everyone the best of luck."

Graydon backs the chairman to make right call on boss

WALSALL legend Ray Graydon has backed chairman Jeff Bonser to make the right call when appointing a new manager - as Jon Whitney closes in on the role. Whitney was expected to be named permanent head coach this week.

He will hope to follow in the footsteps of Graydon who won promotion with the Saddlers to the old Division One back in 1999 and again in 2001.

And if Whitney does get the job, Graydon, affectionately known by fans as 'Sir Ray', believes he will get all the support he needs from Bonser and the board.

"When I was manager I was very fortunate that I had some fantastic people around me," Graydon said.

"One of those was Jeff, we had a great working relationship. He just wanted what was best for the team and he never gave me any bother."

Meanwhile, youngster Amadou Bakayoko accepts he faces a make-or-break season after signing a contract extension with Walsall. The 20-year-old striker has penned a new one-year deal but will have to overcome a knee injury before he can set his sights on the first team.

Cup of cheer for Khalsa with late goal

It's celebration time for Sporting Khalsa

SPORTING Khalsa staged a second-half comeback to earn a 3-2 win over Wolverhampton Sporting Community and lift the JW Hunt Cup at Molineux.

It was Wolves who were first on the scoresheet with a classic second minute counter-attack. A Khalsa corner was cleared to halfway where Dan Westwood held off a man before squaring to Josh Sarmento who sidestepped a challenge and slotted low past the keeper.

Khalsa hit back quickly and in the 17th minute, Dave Meese's first-time volley was pushed wide by the keeper but quickly returned into the middle where Craig Bannister fired into the open net from six yards.

The West Midlands League regained the lead in the 38th minute. Ethan Delaney earned a free-kick 25 yards out which Westwood curled in over the wall.

Khalsa pulled level for a second time in the 68th minute when Tes Robinson produced a good turn and finish following a corner. Two minutes from time, a cross from the right dropped to Meese and he fired low into the bottom corner.

BELIEF IS THE KEY FOR TULLY

"IF you believe it, you can achieve it. Just keep on trying."

So says para-athlete Tully Kearney, who believes anyone who puts their mind to it can see their dreams come true. And that proved the case for the Aldridge swimmer who broke on to the international scene during last year's World Championships, collecting four golds - six medals in all - on her way to becoming the most decorated swimmer in the British team, all while embarking on a physiology course at Manchester Metropolitan University.

Kearney, runner-up in the BBC's Young Sports Personality of the Year awards, has now been selected to represent Great Britain's Paralympic swimming team in Rio this September, despite being forced to miss the trials this month through injury.

"To balance everything I have to be very organised and plan my weeks in advance," she said. But she was quick to praise her mother Amanda, for making huge personal sacrifices. "She completely gave up her social life for me and if it wasn't for her I would not be where I am today."

Kearney admits she was privileged to see Paralympic star Ellie Simmonds show off her latest medals and awards when they both attended Cooper and Jordan Primary.

Simmonds, now an OBE, won her first Paralympic medal aged just 13 and went on to become a four-time Paralympic champion and currently has 10 world records to her name.

It helped stoke the fire that would eventually see Kearney become team-mates with Simmonds - and both are now real gold medal contenders for the Games in Rio, from September 7 to 18.

Kearney, who suffers with primary generalised dystonia, which affects which affects her lower limbs and left hand side of her body, said: "Ellie would bring in all her awards, medals and show them at assemblies. Seeing her winning all those trophies meant I was inspired by her to achieve something."

Kearney joined Boldmere Swimming Club in 2012 and was coached by Ashley Cox. Classified as a S10 and SB9 swimmer, at the age of 14 she was competing nationally in youth competitions winning gold in seven events at the DSE (Disability Sports Events) Championships in Sheffield.

Now her sights have been set fully on Brazil.

"My first aim was to qualify for Rio. Now my only goal is to do the best I can," she said.

St John's pocket memorable double

ST John's completed a memorable double with a 3-1 away victory in the second leg of the Aldridge Snooker League Premier Division League Cup Final against Wednesfield Cons A, completing a 6-3 aggregate win to add to their league title.

In the Division One League Cup Final Wednesfield Cons B visited Darlaston Cons with a 4-1 advantage from the first leg and completed a 6-4 aggregate League Cup victory. They face Stafford Road B in a play-off for promotion to the Premier League.

Holders Paul Harrison & Lee Thomson (Wednesfield Cons) were beaten 3-0 in the final of the Foursomes Championship by ex-pro Ade Rosa and promising youngster Ryley Archer (Lea Hall).

The u-21 Junior Championship Final at Amery saw Riley Parsons (St John's) defeat Golden Cue's Tom Hurst 3-0 for his first Aldridge Junior title.

Captain's Cup holder Paul Harrison (Wednesfield Cons) fell to challenger Andy Price of Bloxwich.

Keeping it in family for Evening With BOXING legend Nigel Benn and his son Conor take centre stage for a family affair in the Black Country next month.

The two will be the feature attractions of 'An Evening With' on June 11 at the WSB Concourse & Banqueting Suite, in Holyhead Road, Wednesbury.

Staged by Just Judge Events, it takes place on the same night England play Russia in the European Championships. The game will be shown live on big screens around the venue.

Nigel is making the trip over for a tour of the United Kingdom from his home in Sydney, Australia, to where he emigrated after hanging up his gloves in 1996.

The former Commonwealth and two-weight titlist is regarded as one of the best WBC super middleweight champions ever.

'The Dark Destroyer', now aged 52, won the crown and made nine defences. He boxed 48 times as a pro, winning 42 with 35 TKOs. He lost five, with one draw.

Son Conor - middle name Nigel - has followed in his boxing footsteps and turned pro this year.

The 19-year-old has turned over at light middle and is signed to Eddie Hearns' Matchroom stable.

Bloxwich's Daniel Breeze, the popular and reigning British Classic middleweight champion, will be among the guests on the night.

Tickets are on sale now, starting at £30 for a 'bronze' pass. The 'silver' option is £50 and includes food and waiter service.

The 'gold' choice is £65 and includes all of the above, plus queue jump and a picture with Nigel. Go to www.eventbrite.co.uk.

Friendly derbies for Saddlers pre-season

WALSALL have lined up two local derbies as they begin their preparations for the 2016/17 League One campaign.

The Saddlers will face newly-promoted National League side Solihull Moors in a friendly on July 16 at Damson Park - the first ever meeting between the two sides.

Walsall then host Championship neighbours Birmingham City on July 19. Tickets are £12 for adults and £6 for concessions.

Meanwhile, winger Kieran Morris has signed a two-year deal. The 21-year-old academy graduate will stay at the Banks's Stadium until 2018.
